
Air bed Support Systems

An air bed support system is the base of the air mattress, that holds everything together and provides structure and support to the air bed. The Bed 4 Life series of air beds offers two different styles of rail support, with some unique features not found on our competitors, such as Select Comfort.

Use the links on the left to learn more about our Air bed Support Systems.